

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS

"Why no one loves me? Is there someone out there who will love me?" - A silent cry of a hurting and abused child. Sadly, many children have been seen as objects to be manipulated or abused as the adults pleased. This is not an acceptable perception of children. The challenge to protect children and to speak for them is still an uphill battle. Many of us are very much aware of this with the many highlights by the media over such issues. SHELTER has always played a part in protecting and we have gotten our children to "speak up" on their rights through the drawings in this calendar. Be our ambassadors as you spread the awareness of these universal rights of children through our calendars to friends and family. Let us all save and protect our children. Be involved – support the children by getting these calendars!
